

Code of Practice for 'Moon Mothers'

Moon Mothers are women who have trained with Miranda Gray in Womb Blessing and Womb Healing.

1. Moon Mothers shall have respect for the religious, spiritual, and social views of any individual irrespective of race, colour, creed, gender or sexual orientation.
2. Moon Mothers shall at all times conduct themselves in an honourable and polite manner in their relations with their clients and the public. Proper moral conduct must always be paramount in all Moon Mother relations with clients.
3. The relationship between a Moon Mother and her client is that of a professional with a client.
4. A Moon Mother's attitude with a client must be competent and sympathetic, hopeful and positive, thus encouraging an uplift in the client's mental outlook.
5. Moon Mothers must respect the confidentiality of anything their client shares with them and adhere to the data protection laws of their country.
6. Moon Mothers must never claim to 'cure', diagnose or prescribe. The possible benefits of the Womb Blessing and Womb Healing exercises and any other authorised Moon Mother activities may be described. Moon Mothers must always advise the client to see a professional medical practitioner if a medical diagnosis is required.
7. Moon Mothers should ensure that they themselves are medically, physically and psychologically fit to practise.
8. Moon Mothers with qualifications in other therapies and practices may combine Womb Blessings and Womb Healings with these practices.
9. Moon Mothers must keep confidential client notes for Womb Healings.
10. Moon Mothers must have appropriate and adequate insurance to practise in accordance with the laws of their country. The insurance policy must include public liability and professional indemnity.
11. Moon Mothers must not contradict instructions or prescriptions given by a professional medical practitioner.
12. Moon Mothers must not give Womb Blessings to girls who have not experienced their first menstruation or to women who are beyond half way through their pregnancy. Moon Mothers without Doula or midwifery or medical qualifications must not give Womb Healing or Womb Blessings during or immediately after childbirth.
13. Advertising which makes reference to the status of 'Moon Mother' and to 'Womb Blessing', 'Womb Healing' and related activities, must be dignified in tone and shall not claim to cure any disease etc.
14. Before a Womb Healing or a Womb Blessing, Moon Mothers must explain what will happen. Afterwards they must supply the client with the documentation provided by Miranda Gray on meditation and clearing.
15. Moon Mothers may charge an appropriate fee for both Womb Blessings and Womb Healings, either as separate therapies or in association with another therapy.
16. Moon Mothers have the right to refuse a client a Womb Healing or a Womb Blessing.

Code of Practice for 'Moon Mothers'

17. Moon Mothers may offer the Womb Blessing as a healing therapy or as spiritual development, spiritual practice, spiritual support or celebration.

18. Moon Mothers are not entitled to create other Moon Mothers.

19. Moon Mothers will meet all the legal requirements for practising Womb Blessings and Womb Healings in their country.

20. Copies of complaints about a Moon Mother's behaviour will be sent to the Moon Mother and she will be given the opportunity to defend the complaint. If the complaint is upheld, the Moon Mother will receive a warning. If a second complaint is upheld the Moon Mother will lose her authorisation to practise Womb Healings and Womb Blessings.
